Admissions Policy

Mitchell Hamline School of Law seeks to educate talented, motivated students who will effectively and ethically serve their clients and employers, their local and wider communities, their profession, and their law school. To achieve that goal, the law school and the Admissions Committee hold themselves to high standards of judgment, experience, and fairness.

Mitchell Hamline School of Law strives to ensure that:

- all students offered admission are qualified to meet the challenges of the LL.M. Program;
- each applicant gets full, careful, personalized consideration; and
- all relevant information, quantifiable and nonquantifiable, is considered, including undergraduate and graduate school transcripts, career experience and focus, motivation, activities outside of work or school, interpersonal skills, and intellectual and personal breadth and depth.

Information submitted to Mitchell Hamline School of Law as a part of an application becomes the property of the school.

The school reserves the right to reject any applicant for admission, regardless of fulfillment of requirements stated in this application or elsewhere. The law school's nondiscrimination policy is observed in all cases.

Mitchell Hamline admits students on a rolling basis. We begin to accept applications for the spring and fall on October 1. Because the college admits on a rolling basis, it is to the applicant's advantage to apply early in the application process. The submission deadline for applications for spring semester enrollment is December 1. The submission deadline for applications for fall semester enrollment is July 15.

Admissions Process

The Admissions Committee will evaluate your application as soon as it has received all required admissions documents. Please consult the LLM program page for detailed information about the required application items.

Application Requirements

- Official Transcripts in English (or accompanied by a certified translation) of previous law school work. These must show the date on which each degree was granted. You must submit a transcript for each institution you have attended. Official transcripts must bear the original signature of the registrar or other appropriate official.
- Credential Evaluation of transcripts and grades. Please use a credential evaluation service such as the LSAC LLM Credential Assembly Service or a service that is a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), such as World Education Services \(WES\) or Educational Credential Evaluators \(ECE\). These evaluation companies translate the information into English as well as provide us with your U.S. grade equivalency. If possible, always request a “course by course” report, which lists each individual university course and the grade received.

- Personal Statement, in English, of 750 to 1,500 words describing previous law study and professional experience, reasons and goals for studying in the LL.M. Program, and any other relevant information. You will upload this under the "Attachments" section of the application.
- Proof of Competency in English. All courses are taught in English. Applicants from non-English-speaking countries or whose native language is not English must submit an official TOEFL, IELTS, or other established test of English. Applicants may also be invited to demonstrate English competency through an interview.
- Two Letters of Recommendation focused on academic ability, English language competency, motivation and self-discipline, and demonstrated ethics. Your two letters of recommendation must be sent directly to your LL.M. Credential Assembly Service (LL.M. CAS) account at the Law School Admission Council (LSAC). Please consult LSAC’s Letters of Recommendation page for additional information.
- Résumé / Curriculum Vitae. You will attach this to your electronic application.
- Permanent resident card. Permanent resident applicants need to submit a copy of their permanent resident card with their application. You will upload this under the "Attachments" section of the application.
- Visa Materials. Upon admission to the LL.M. program you will need to submit the following additional items. Most international students enter the U.S. on a student visa (F-1 visa). In order to apply for the F-1 student visa, the student needs a document called the I-20 from the educational institution you will attend. We will require additional information from you in order to issue you an I-20 so that you can apply for the visa.
 - Financial information. In order to complete and issue the I-20, we will need original financial documents that show that the student has sufficient funds for the tuition and cost of living expenses connected to the program. We will send additional information concerning the financial information once you are admitted to the program and have submitted your intent to enroll information and deposit.
 - Photocopy of your passport or other non-US citizenship documentation.
