Re: 2022 Bergstrom Child Welfare Law Training

The University of Michigan Law School is pleased to announce the 2022 Bergstrom Child Welfare Law Training, which will be held at the law school May 23-25, 2022. Please let students at your school interested in child welfare law know about this opportunity. Applications are due April 6, 2022.

For the past twenty-five years, the University of Michigan Law School has invited interested students to participate in a comprehensive training on child welfare law and practice in Ann Arbor prior to starting their summer internship at a child welfare office. During the training, students learn the basic legal framework of child protection and foster care as well as the interdisciplinary perspectives so important to successful lawyering in this field, including hearing from experts in child development, child sexual abuse, and drug addiction. In addition to the training, many fellows say one of the best things about the training is meeting and forming a network with other like-minded law students from around the country. The Bergstrom Foundation will fund travel expenses for the participants, housing during the fellowship training, and meals.

Interested students can learn more about the program at law.umich.edu/bergstrom. Applications can be submitted online at <https://forms.gle/1MV8F2JudMKCJUkF9>. If you have any further questions, please contact our training coordinator, Jackie Julien, at (734) 763-5000 or e-mail her at jmjulien@umich.edu.

The Bergstrom Child Welfare Law Summer Fellowship has been an inspiring and invaluable experience for law students interested in pursuing careers in child welfare law. I hope that your students will apply for the program. We look forward to hearing from them.

Sincerely,

Vivek Sankaran
Clinical Professor of Law
