Twin Cities Diversity in Practice is a nonprofit association comprised of the leading Twin Cities legal employers with a single mission: to attract, recruit, advance, and retain attorneys of color in and to the Twin Cities legal community.

Our organization takes a leadership role in advancing diversity. We turn good intentions into action through the active participation of all our members. We're not about theory. We're about putting diversity into practice and promoting the Twin Cities as a great place for attorneys of color to develop professionally and personally.
